REGISTRATION INFORMATION

1. Attached please find a) a list of all courses available for the Spring 2022 Semester; b) spring class and final exam schedules, c) a Course Selection Guide containing information regarding the area of concentration certificates available and experiential learning information, d) the Spring 2022 academic calendar, e) information about the M.R. Abrahns Legal Clinic, f) information about the Juvenile Justice Clinic, and g) information regarding externships.

2. Course descriptions and information about course selection are also found on the Creighton School of Law website at: law.creighton.edu under the menu for Academics.

The course schedule reflects our anticipated course offerings, instructors, and times. However, this information is subject to change.

In planning your schedule for Spring 2022, please note the following:

- All students must complete the following required upper-class courses: Business Associations, Commercial Law, Criminal Procedure, Evidence, Legal Research and Writing III, Professional Responsibility, and Trusts and Estates. Enrollment in these courses will normally occur during the second year of law school. However, a student in good standing may defer not more than two upper-level required courses until the student’s third year without the Dean’s permission. A student may not defer Legal Research and Writing III. See Academic Rule 6.1(c).

- Students are required to complete the six-hour experiential learning course requirement. Details on the requirement can be found on the website.

- Students may not register for more than 18 credit hours in any semester.

- 3L students with a cumulative GPA of less than 2.98 are required to register for and complete LAW 302 Comprehensive Review. See Academic Rule 7.1(c). We encourage all 3L students to take this class.

- As a condition for graduation, students matriculating prior to the Summer of 2021 must successfully complete not less than 89 credit hours, of which at least 71 credit hours are in courses that take place in the law school and require attendance in regularly scheduled classroom sessions or direct faculty instruction. Students matriculating in the Summer of 2021 or later must successfully complete not less than 90 credit hours, of which at least 72 credit hours are in courses that take place in the law school and require attendance in regularly scheduled classroom sessions or direct faculty instruction. See Academic Rule 6.8 for more details.

Please review all registration materials before completing your registration online. The online registration period for 3L law students will begin on Wednesday, November 3 at 4:00 p.m. and 2L students on Thursday, November 4 at 4:00 p.m. Specific instructors for online registration will be emailed to you separately from these registration materials and will include your registration PIN. Be advised that any delay in registering may affect your ability to sign up for courses with limited enrollments.

3. You may not register for two courses that meet during the same time on any day of the week.

4. You may not reschedule exams unless you have two exams on the same day. If you register for courses with exams scheduled on the same day, you will need to reschedule one of those exams for a later time. We will determine which exam will be rescheduled. If you have questions, ask Dean Dallon or Kris Victor. Courses not listed on the exam schedule are currently designed to require papers, take-home exams, or other alternative methods of evaluation. See the course description or contact the professor for further details as to the method of evaluation that will be used in the course.

5. Registration for Spring courses will facilitate timely disbursement of Spring financial aid.
DROP AND ADD

You may drop or add the courses available for registration on the web by returning to the web site at any time through Sunday, January 2, 2022. Follow the necessary steps as directed. After January 2, schedule changes cannot be made until the first day of classes on January 12, 2022. No changes to registration will be allowed between January 2 and January 11. Your individual tuition, financial aid and any scholarships will be calculated during this time period. Any changes to your schedule made after January 11, which do not result in a zero net change in credit hours, will cause changes to tuition, financial aid and scholarships. All changes after January 11 must be made through Kris Victor.

Subject to the statement about registration changes above, courses which are not overenrolled may be dropped or added until midnight on Tuesday, January 18, 2022. You may drop any elective course, other than those listed below. Unless you are in violation of the attendance rule for the course, you may drop a course after January 18, 2022, but the drop will be considered a "withdrawal" and will appear as a "W" on your transcript. You may not drop Arbitration/Trial Theory, Client Interviewing and Legal Counseling, Externships, Juvenile Justice Clinic, Mediation Process, Milton R. Abrahams Legal Clinic, Negotiation, Scientific Evidence, and Trial Practice after Tuesday, January 18, 2022.

SPRING CLASSES

The first day of classes for the Spring 2022 Semester will be Wednesday, January 12, 2022. The first day of classes for students in the GOAL program is Tuesday, January 4, 2022. The academic calendar is attached and is posted on the law school website. You will be able to review your tuition statement for the Spring 2022 Semester via your N.E.S.T. account.

ELECTIVES

The elective courses listed below will be offered in the Spring 2022 Semester. Some of these electives may have prerequisites. The prerequisites are indicated in the spreadsheet. To the extent the prerequisites listed here are different than those listed on the website, those listed here prevail. Courses with insufficient enrollment are subject to cancellation.
