

LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT RELATIONS ASSOCIATION

Online:
Feb. 18

The Future of Workplace Dispute Resolution

HTTPS://WWW.LERAWEB.ORG/FUTURE-OF-DR

Envisioning a Professional Community with Modern Tools

The Labor and Employment Relations Association Dispute Resolution Interest Section is hosting three webinars on February 18 on The Future of Workplace Dispute Resolution: Envisioning a Professional Community with Modern Tools.

Each of the three online conversations will bring together members of several associations representing professionals in the field of workplace dispute resolution. Audiences will enjoy a timely session length with concentrated content and Q&A opportunities.

February 18 Session 1 12:00-1:00pm ET
The Future of Gender and Racial Diversity
Moderator Sandra Smith Gangle, J.D., Ret'd Arbitrator
Panelist Homer La Rue, Arbitrator
Panelist Alan Symonette, Arbitrator
Panelist Hon. Myra C. Selby, Ret'd, Indiana SCJ

What will be the status of gender and racial diversity among the cadre of active arbitrators and mediators of labor and employment disputes in 2030? What strategies will have helped accomplish that?

February 18 Session 2 1:15-2:15pm ET
Building the Next Generation of Neutrals
Moderator Richard Fincher, Mediator & Arbitrator
Panelist Harry Katz, Professor-Cornell U.
Panelist Rachel Goedken, Professor-Creighton U.
Panelist Richard Fincher, Mediator & Arbitrator

What will change in ten years? What new competencies are required for an evolving client profile? Changing demographics, distance learning, ODR capability, and broad settlement skills will be discussed.

February 18 Session 3 2:30-3:30pm ET
A Roundtable Conversation Across Associations
Moderator Todd Dickey, ACR & Syracuse U.
Panelist Richard Fincher, NAA & LERA
Panelist Sana Manjeshwar, Int'l Ombudsman Assoc.
Panelist Elizabeth Neumeier, NAA

A roundtable conversation on the future of workplace dispute resolution with representatives of several co-sponsoring organizations of LERA's Future of Workplace Dispute Resolution series.

Registration is complimentary, but required!

Register Here: The Future of Workplace Dispute Resolution \(leraweb.org\)